

A handwriting practice sheet for the letter 'M'. The sheet features a green outer border and a red inner border. Inside the red border, there are three vertical dashed lines that define a central column. In the center of this column, the letter 'M' is written in a light blue color. To the right of the blue 'M', a light red 'M' is positioned, partially overlapping the blue one, serving as a guide for the second stroke. The background is white.

M

The diagram shows a rectangular area with a white center and two gray side sections. A vertical dashed line runs down the center of the white section. Two horizontal red lines are positioned near the top and bottom of the white section, extending from the left gray section to the right gray section. The entire diagram is enclosed in a thin green border.
